I was born and raised in Austin, TX where I have grown in the creative scene. I aspire to expand my skillset. I graduated from UT Austin with degrees in Information Systems and Spanish, and I work at Apple in supply chain. In two years, I will be pursuing my MBA at Harvard University which I hope will allow me to pivot into the high fashion business. In my free time, I live and breathe the Arts and work on projects that serve a greater purpose. I mix Bollywood fusion and techno/EDM beats as a DJ, and I make dance accessible through easy and catchy choreographies. As a trilingual artist, I create genre-defying music that blends cultures and I enjoy doing photoshoots promoting body positivity and representation of South Asians in the fashion industry. I have recently been craving more autonomy on project visions and I hope to achieve that by taking risks and being bold with artistic choices while experimenting with creating my own designs and producing my own fashion shows.
